Potential Cashflow 'profit':	£241.67 to £291.67

Supporting factors:

Estimated Rebuild Value:	£125,000	"this is a disequilibrium that would be expected to pull prices up"
Highest price achieved for similar property at 2008 peak:	£120,000	"in previous recessions this 'high' was a marker during the recovery. Prices 'snapped' back relatively to this level quickly"
Discount from today's market value:	39.13%	"wow"

Capital and Rent 5 year growth forecasts:

	Yr 1	Yr 2	Yr 3	Yr 4	Yr 5	Totals
Rent at 3% growth	£6,000	£6,180	£6,365	£6,556	£6,753	£31,855
Capital Gain at 2.5%	£2,875	£2,947	£3,021	£3,096	£3,173	£15,112
Capital Gain at 5%	£5,750	£6,038	£6,339	£6,656	£6,989	£31,772
Capital Gain at 7%	£8,625	£9,272	£9,967	£10,715	£11,518	£50,097

It is anticipated that, depending upon market conditions, this property could be refinanced based upon a higher value of up to £115,000. Doing so would release £92,000 (80%LTV) enabling the 'recycling' of some of the original funds employed. Repeat the exercise to purchase more property, using some of the same original deposit.
